To: Asynchronous Transfer Mode (ATM) and Frame Relay Interexchange Carriers (IXC)

Subject: ATM and Frame Relay IXCs – (Tariff and Billing) – Promotion of Free Installation for Regional InterLATA Permanent Virtual Circuit Extension

This is to advise that, on October 1, 2006, BellSouth will offer a free installation promotion for Regional InterLATA Permanent Virtual Circuit (PVC) Extension, which is associated with Wholesale Asynchronous Transfer Mode (ATM) and Frame Relay services.

The Regional InterLATA PVC Extension feature will provide for the mapping of a PVC between two (2) Fast Packet Access services interfaces located within any two (2) Local Access Transport Areas (LATA) within BellSouth's operating territory, as described in the BellSouth Tariff FCC No. 1, Section 21.

The promotional period will begin October 1, 2006, and end December 31, 2006. Customers who subscribe to the Regional InterLATA PVC Extension feature will have all nonrecurring charges associated with the feature waived, subject to the following conditions:

- 1) All orders for the Regional InterLATA PVC Extension must have an Application Date that falls within the promotional period above.
- 2) A minimum service period of six (6) months is required for the Regional InterLATA PVC Extension ordered under this promotion. If the customer disconnects the Regional InterLATA PVC Extension prior to the 6 months minimum service period, the customer must repay the credits received under this promotion, and such amount will be billed to the customer within ninety (90) days of the disconnect date.

Please contact your BellSouth account team representative with any questions.

Sincerely,
